VICE-CHANCELLOR'S WEEKLY MESSAGE

21 November, 2024

Dear All,

I would like to begin this week by expressing my deepest gratitude to all the students and staff of the Fiji National University.

As we close out another successful year, I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to each of you for your hard work, commitment, and resilience.

Students, your dedication has been evident in the countless hours you've spent studying and preparing, and now that your exams are completed, you've earned a well-deserved break.

I hope you take this time to relax, recharge, and reflect on all you've accomplished. Please remember to take care of yourselves and stay safe over the holidays.

Next month, from December 10 to 12, we will celebrate the graduating students accomplishments which will take place at the Vodafone Arena.

Your hard work, along with the unwavering support of your parents, will all have been worthwhile. I know the journey has not been easy, but I assure you that every challenge you faced was meant to make you stronger.

I look forward to seeing you wear your gown with pride.

To our staff, thank you for your unwavering dedication and support, which have been invaluable in guiding our students and ensuring their success. Your efforts, both seen and unseen, have created an environment where students can thrive and are continually inspired to achieve their best.

Let's carry forward this spirit of collaboration and commitment. I am truly grateful to be part of such a vibrant and supportive community.
